

Call for one EYP NC to join the Understanding Europe Network

The European Youth Parliament and the Understanding Europe Network are calling for one new EYP National Committee to join the Understanding Europe Network until the end of 2024.

1. What is Understanding Europe?

The transnational Educational Network Understanding Europe empowers young people in Europe by means of democratic citizenship education and seeks to give them a voice. To this end, it promotes and advises on educational projects run by young people, who are committed to civic participation and a democratic, diverse and open-minded Europe.

Understanding Europe's educational formats and methods are based on the Peer Education approach: they are inclusive and dialogical, thus supporting the participation of differently socialized target groups. The project creates a protected space for learning and collaboration, offering young people opportunities to explore, get to know each other and better understand other world views and experiences.

What does it mean to be an Understanding Europe NC?

An Understanding Europe NC is an EYP NC that participates in the Understanding Europe Network, organising activities and contributing to facilitating democratic citizenship education by and for young people.

The work of the NC in Understanding Europe is driven by a Coordinator, who implements and runs the project in their national context. The Coordinators manage teams of Trainers (of up to 10 people) and liaise with teachers, schools and other partners, adapting the project to local needs, circumstances and topics. The pedagogical work is implemented by Peer Educators. They train local volunteers who want to become Trainers and thereby ensure that newly committed people become part of the project. The Trainers then run Understanding Europe courses in schools and disseminate Understanding Europe materials.

Coordinators do not have to be a member of the NC Board, but close cooperation between the Coordinator and the EYP NC Board is encouraged so both networks can benefit from each other. Similarly, trainers can be active EYP volunteers but don't have to be, as long as they have received the Understanding Europe training.

As a programme, Understanding Europe aligns closely with the mission of the EYP by enabling an inclusive and diversity-oriented platform for citizenship education, participation and peer-to-peer learning. Through the development of knowledge and critical understanding of Europe, the media, democratic participation, climate justice, social inequalities and diversity, Understanding Europe empowers young people to play an active role and shape their present and future. Schools can benefit from Understanding Europe courses and educational materials, offering a wide range of students the opportunity to learn in an interactive, peer-to-peer format about the European Union, its institutions, history, competences and opportunities for citizens to participate and actively get involved in democratic processes. Most recently, Understanding Europe has developed new educational workshops on topics in the field of social- and climate justice. Understanding Europe NCs multiply democratic citizenship education by increasing the offer of non-formal education, bringing innovative and diverse young perspectives to the classroom, and strengthening the political literacy and agency of young people.

Through Understanding Europe, NCs can bring the EYP to new students and schools who may be interested in taking part, potentially becoming a successful outreach tool. Understanding Europe NCs can also offer new opportunities for facilitation and peer education to their members who would like to become Understanding Europe trainers. With both programmes targeting young people through non-formal education, there are endless opportunities for cooperation between Understanding Europe and EYP!

Understanding Europe's Educational Network is currently active in 13 European countries, inside as well as outside of the EU's borders: Armenia, Austria, Belgium, Bosnia and Herzegovina, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Portugal, Romania, Spain, Turkey and Ukraine. In 10 of these countries, it is run by EYPers, connecting the educational work in schools closely to EYP activities and strategy.

In reaction to continuous interest by other National Committees to join the Understanding Europe Network and following the new cooperation agreement between EYP and Understanding Europe, we are now opening a call for a new National Committee to join the Understanding Europe Network until (at least) the end of 2024.
